

Newborn – APGAR Scoring

Course Description: This course defines APGAR scoring, its purpose, and its clinical use. It reviews each of the five points of evaluation, along with their indicators and corresponding values. A <quick look chart> for APGAR scores is included, and a realistic case scenario tests student understanding of the material.

Course Objectives:

- Define what is meant by the APGAR acronym, its score, and its purpose
- Describe how the score is calculated and used
- List the indicators for each of the five points of evaluation, and their corresponding values
